Now THAT the electric railway question has been definitely settled and it is in the hands of parties who will construct it without asking for financial aid from the people of town, let the people do something for themselves. Let them do something towards securing new home industries. Now is the time. The coming of the new mode of traveling and the promised advent of a new water supply are encouraging. Let us be up and doing.

A Poetess' Body Removed.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Nov. 8.—The remains of Helen Hunt Jackson, the famous poetess, known as "H. H.," were removed Saturday from Cheyenne Mountain, where they have been buried to six years. They were taken to Evergreen Cemetery and buried, and the spot will be appropriately marked. This step has been in contemplation for a long time, as the spot which the authorities intended should be held sacred by those who know her has been desecrated by toll-gates and become the resort of pleasure seekers.

PENNSYLVANIA BILLES.

Jonathan Wright, who was burned to death at Pottsville, was over 70 years of age, and a well-known lawyer.

Princeton's football team easily defeated the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia Saturday by a score of 34 to 0.

By the explosion of a boiler in the McDonald oil field, near Pittsburg, Saturday, a child was killed and several people hurt.

Marion Lea, the Philadelphia actress, was married this morning in London to Elwyn Mitchell, son of Dr. Weir Mitchell of Philadelphia.

Present indications in the Jones & Laughlin trouble at Pittsburg point to a general strike of all the 3,500 men employed in the works.

The failure of the National Bank at Corry is due entirely to the fact that the bank has been carrying a large amount of paper for business men in that section of the lumber country who have been unable to meet their obligations.

A DESPERATE TRAMP.

He Makes a Bold Attack on an Engineer.

One day last week a tramp jumped upon a P. & B. coal train engine at Eliengowan and refused to get off when told to do so by the engineer. Words were exchanged and the tramp struck the engineer on the head with a shovel, badly cutting his scalp. The fireman then picked up a red-hot poker and attacked the tramp, who caught the hot end with both hands, burning them almost to the bone. The tramp then jumped from the engine and disappeared.

WANTS A MEAL EVERY HOUR.

Abnormal Appetite of a Girl Who Was Cursed By a Tramp.

NORTH PLAINS, Conn., Nov. 9.—The peculiar case of Miss Julia Hepburn, who resides near here, is attracting the attention of local physicians. She has become possessed with a mania for eating, and the amount of food that she has daily devoured is astonishing. She has to be fed every hour in the twenty-four, and her appetite is growing. She seems to enjoy perfect health physically, but she has become very nervous. Her physicians think she is suffering from a nervous affection of the stomach, and suggested that she be fed until she was glutted, and that she be forced to take food until she turned sick. This was tried, but she ate all that was placed before her without signs of distress, until the physician gave up the treatment in despair.

A magnetic healer from New Haven claimed that he could cure her by hypnotizing her, but he failed. Then came a physician from Hartford, who claimed that she was "cranky," and said that if she was put on a diet of three meals a day, and not allowed to eat any more, she would come out of the "spell." This treatment was tried, but she became delirious. She seems to have no preference for food. Anything that is edible she devours ravenously, so long as it is cooked.

Miss Hepburn, who is of a religious turn of mind, believes that she is suffering from a curse. Last September she turned a tramp away from the door of her father's house one morning, refusing to give him food. In departing the tramp told the young woman that God would curse her for her treatment of him. These words preyed upon her mind so that she reported the tramp's words to her parents, who laughed at her. But she grew moody over the matter, and about six weeks ago this voracious appetite came upon her. Since then she has got rid of the melancholy fits she had previously. She possesses her senses perfectly and is able to perform household duties.

BOROUGH ITEMS!

GLEANINGS BY THE LOCAL CORPS OF REPORTERS.

WHAT THE SCRIBES SEE AND HEAR

Items of General Interest Gathered by Our Reporters for Perusal by the "Herald's" Many Readers.

The churches were well attended yesterday.

Parents visit the public schools. The superintendent would be pleased to have you come and inspect the methods of instruction and the children would feel all the more encouraged in their studies. You need not think you intrude by calling.

The National Polish Emigrant Society of St. Joseph in New York City, is now taking steps to establish an emigrant house in that city for that nationality similar to the Irish and German ones now in existence. The society has branches all over the country with the exception of that city, where their interests have hitherto been looked after from the headquarters of the society, 488 Adelphi street, Brooklyn. In view of the large number of Poles who are now emigrating in this country, the officers of the society deem it advisable to establish a branch office somewhere near the Barge Office. With this object in view, a committee has been appointed to secure a house either on Battery place or on State street.

The Jewish Alliance has appointed Max Reese to act as agent for Shenandoah and vicinity. The purpose of the Alliance is to secure employment for the Polish Jews expelled from Russia. Max has already secured work in the mines for at least half dozen boys. The Alliance pays all expenses and none of the expelled Jews will be permitted to peddle, must get down to hard work like other people, so says Mr. Reese.

The Bethlehem Daily Times says the proprietors of Hazleton's low groceries have instituted a boycott against the local newspapers because they were leaders in the movement to secure a city charter. A city charter means death to many of these grog shops, and therefore—in the interest of morality and the spiritual advancement of their beloved community—they bitterly opposed the evolution from a borough. The result of Hazleton's election day thus marks a distinct triumph for the newspapers and for the cause of temperance. With a lot of her wretched saloons uprooted, as must necessarily follow, Hazleton will be far happier, better and more peaceful than is now possible.

Saturday's local market was well supplied with all kinds of fruit and vegetables. The apples displayed at the stands were the finest we have seen for many years. Fine yellow pippins, larger than pound apples, sold for 15 cents per peck.

The car, "Florida on Wheels," during its three-day stay in Shenandoah, was visited by many people. It was well worth the price of admission, 10 cents, and our people learned a great deal of the resources of the State of Florida.

We received a letter the other day from our old friend Daniel B. Dunn, who is now in Georgia, engineer for a railroad company. A few years ago he visited Shenandoah, a perfect wreck, and was then living in Sumner, Florida, having given up a lucrative position. He is now well again and back to a similar position. He left Tamaqua a poor boy, after serving an enlistment in the 81st Penna. regiment, and is now in good circumstances and has a wide acquaintance throughout the South.

We notice in one of our exchanges that an old former resident of Shenandoah, now residing in Latrobe, John Dovey, had a narrow escape from death the other day. The cage he was on dropped a distance of 50 feet before it was stopped on its way down a deep shaft.

"Bob" Harris, of the Tamaqua Courier, finding little or nothing to do in getting out his paper, has connected himself with the new electric railway company, which is to connect Lansford with Tamaqua. He is secretary of the company.

Rev. Wm. McAlley, pastor of the Presbyterian church, is winning great favor with his congregation. He is an earnest and forcible preacher and holds the attention of his congregation to the close of his sermons.

Have you ever been at the Lehigh Valley depot on a Saturday evening? Such a crowd! Coming and going with scarcely room to turn around. The company ought to have more room for its patrons. Even on other days, about the time the trains are due, there is always a big crowd. The Lehigh has the "pull" on the traveling public.

Bethlehem's letter carrier force has been increased twice since its establishment. The force in town will no doubt be increased when the electric railway is built.

Raffling watches for chickens, turkeys, etc., have already commenced in town, and is more patronized by the young men than the old. The winner generally pays as much as the prize is worth, since it is custom to "set 'em up."

"Ben" Severn must have had cramps in his fingers when he finished that postal card which won for him the piano lamp offered by the Grand Union Tea Co. It was a big task, and we do half think "Ben" is willing to repeat the experiment.

M. H. Kohler, the up-town merchant, is said, and we believe it is true, is the luckiest hunter and fisherman in the town. He always bags big game when all the rest either come home empty handed or with a poor showing.

PERSONAL.

H. C. Palmer visited Shamokin last week.

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Owens spent Sunday in Shamokin.

Ex-Senator Wm. L. Torbert, of Girard Manor, was in town Sunday.

William Lathlean and wife, of Tremont, spent Sunday in town with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Daniels, of Mahanoy City, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wilde yesterday.

Mrs. Mattie Hewitt, nee Jones, of Tronton, N. J. is in town and will open a dress cutting school in Robbins' building.

Rev. Owen Enoch, of Wales, who preached in the Congregational church yesterday, will very likely preach in that church every Sunday for the next three months.

Mrs. Lewis M. Jones, of Philadelphia, who had been the guest of her niece, Mrs. M. Owens, of South Main street, the past three weeks, left town Saturday to visit friends in Ashland and other towns of the county, after which she will return here for a few days.

A New School.

Mrs. M. C. Hewitt, of Tronton, N. J., one time a member of our local corps of school teachers, has opened a branch dressmaking school in room 8, Robbins' building, over the post office, where she will introduce and teach the latest and most scientific tailoring system for dress-cutting yet invented. The method stands the highest of any in existence. She has taught scores of ladies and dressmakers, all of whom speak in the highest terms in its praise, and her school stands at the head. The time has come that ladies are not obliged to spend months of their time in a shop to learn the dressmaking trade. They can come to her rooms and in a few hours learn what would take months of their time to learn in a shop, as teaching the trade is her special business. By this system ladies' and children's garments of all kinds can be cut with accuracy, insuring a perfect fit on all forms. She teaches how to buste and drape from any fashion design, giving all the principal points of the trade, enabling them to start in business for themselves. It supplies a long-felt want. Permanent satisfaction guaranteed. Mothers interest yourselves for your daughters. Send them to this school. Give them this valuable trade, for certainly no trade is of more value to any lady than to be a first-class dressmaker. Every dress maker should learn this system, because it saves time, anxiety and material, and should be the first to join this class.

Gratifying to All.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based and are abundantly gratifying to the California Fig Syrup Co.

SUNDAY SERVICES

TWO ABLE SERMONS IN THE M. E. CHURCH.

REV. JOHNSON'S ABLE SERMON.

In the Evening the Pastor, Rev. Powick, Discourses on the Importance of the Work of the Sunday School Teacher.

Rev. Robert E. Johnson, well known as a former resident of this neighborhood, but now pastor of Bethel circuit, in Montgomery county, preached a very excellent sermon in the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning on the contrast between "Heaven and Doors of the Word." In the evening the church was crowded and a sermon was delivered by the pastor especially to Sunday school teachers on the importance of their work.

The text was from Psalm 34:11: "Come ye children, hearken unto me and I will teach you the fear of the Lord." The term "children" in the text was one of endearment, as in the text "if children then heirs," and includes persons of all ages. The Sunday school is not for children only—none are too old to learn. But by force of circumstances it deals principally with childhood—and whatever has to do with childhood is important. Early impressions are lasting and they are the most easily made. Then many children receive no other religious instruction than they get at the Sunday school. This ought not to be. But many parents are so neglectful of this great duty that they give out the moral training of their children, as they do their mental, to the teacher without much care as to how they are trained or whether they are trained at all. This makes the work of the teacher one of vast importance and no little difficulty. Then many homes which are moral are not spiritual. The training consists of thou shalt and thou shalt not without the saving truths of the gospel. Then the Sunday school teacher of to-day are sowing the seeds of the civilization of the twentieth century. They have a grip on the conscience and the habits, the ballot boxes and the future lies in the childhood of the present. Among the conditions of success are, 1.—A lofty conception of the importance and dignity of the work. This is the secret of enthusiasm without which there is no success anywhere. 2.—A boundless faith in the adaptation of the gospel to the needs of childhood and the desirability of early conversion. 3.—An earnest desire for a definite change of heart—this being the focal point of all our labors. The need of the church and Sunday school is not more people of extraordinary parts, but more intelligent and faithful effort by people of ordinary parts. Where these conditions are met teachers will be regular in their attendance or in the event of unavoidable absence will provide a suitable substitute. They will make careful preparation to teach—will be patient with the erring, remembering that they are combating the inherited badness of a century—will look up their absent scholars through the week, visiting them at their homes and becoming acquainted with their surroundings—will see that as far as possible they attend the public worship of God—will bring them to prayer meeting and labor with them in revival services that they may be soundly converted to God and will then continue their care till they are established in the faith. If men should set about raising potatoes on the principles that some people follow in getting up or bringing down a revival the potatoes would be as scarce as the converts. The word of God must be planted in human hearts and watered with prayer and tended with care in order to the production of fruit into holiness.

It Should be in Every House. J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with Pneumonia after an attack of "La Grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Conksport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free trial bottles at C. H. Hagenbuch's Drug Store. Large bottles, 50c. and $1.

A Merchant's Helper. The Griffith combination cutter and printer is the latest merchant helper on the market. It keeps wrapping paper clean and prevents waste, and as it is unrolled your business card is printed on the sheet required for use. For convenience, economy and advertising it is certainly up to date. Messrs. Walbridge & Richardson, of Mahanoy City, have secured the agency for Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Best work done at Brennan's steam laundry. Everything white and spotless. Lace curtains a specialty. All work guaranteed.

THERE'S NOTHING IN IT.

Nothing on the Water Question Ready for Publication.

The Pottsville Chronicle of Friday published the following paragraph: "The prospect of securing a new supply of water, with the borough as the corporation to supply it, is not as bright as it was a few weeks ago. The joint committee of citizens and members of the Borough Council selected a stream in the Catwissa Valley from which to draw a supply, but when they came to make their surveys, they discovered that the Catwissa Water and Gas Company had headed them off by securing the prior and exclusive right of way to convey water over the lands of the Girard Estate and the lands of Wm. L. Torbert. The Citizens' Water and Gas Company is doing and can be depended upon to do everything in their power to hamper the new enterprise, but the committee is hopeful of being able to surmount all the obstacles they can place in their way, although it will probably take some time to do so."

The Herald is able to state upon authority that the above paragraph is wholly incorrect and that the prospects for securing a new supply of water, with the borough as the corporation, are brighter, if anything, than they were a few weeks ago. The joint committee is working industriously, and when it feels that time has arrived when nothing can be done by those opposed to the movement to obstruct the plans a full statement of all that has been done and of all that may be contemplated will be given to the public, through the newspapers and otherwise. Up to the present time the committee has studiously avoided allowing any of its business to become public news, for excellent reasons, which will also be made known in due time.

The fair of the Phoenix Fire Company in Robbins' opera house is proving a grand success. Hundreds crowd into the hall every night. No one in town should miss this excellent affair.

With the 19th century dawned the era of wonders. It has also proven an era of surprises for notwithstanding its giant strides toward knowledge, we are told that there are still in some places a few citizens who have not heard of Salvation.
